Obituary

The late Otis Hargraves was born in Greene County, Missouri, July 13, 1871, and moved to Nanton in 1909. Fourteen years later Mr. Hargraves and his family moved to Champion, where they have since resided. In 1930 he was married to Mrs. Hendrie. The deceased had always been in robust health and until a heart attack ten months ago, sickness was unknown to him. He was widely known throughout the district, for the past few years having worked in the office of the International Harvester Co. Of a happy disposition he was a general favorite and his memory will be felt as a distinct loss to numerous friends. He is survived by his wife and four children, Mrs. A. E. Shaw, Nanton; Mrs. R. L. White, Cochrane, Wyoming; Sherman of Los Angeles and George of Champion; his aged mother, three brothers, four sisters and four grandchildren. Three children predeceased him, one son, Raymond being killed in France while serving the Canadian army in the world war.

The funeral took place on Sunday, the service being held in the Community Hall. Rev. J. Morgan officiated. The remains were laid to rest in the Nanton cemetery in the family plot. The pall bearers were K. Clever, U. Dupre, M. F. Hamilton, W. Bozath, V. McInnes and D. Chamberlain. A profusion of flowers added their mute testimony to the regrets of hosts of friends. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved relatives.

Easter Bake Sale and Tea Saturday, April 15

"Oh, weary mothers, making dough, Don't you wish that food would grow! Your lips would smile, I know to see A Cookie bush, or Doughnut Tree." Cookies don't grow on trees, but perhaps you can gain a little rest from too much Easter baking by patronizing the Women's Institute Bake Sale, to be held in Mr. Alexander's office on Saturday, April 15th. You will find there, for sale, some of the toothsome delicacies for which Champion hostesses are famous—the above-mentioned cookies, cakes, sensible hot-cross buns, and other tempting dishes.

A feature of the tea will be fancy sandwiches similar to those which were demonstrated by Mrs. Dawson at the recent meeting of the Institute and which aroused general interest and approval. Tea will be served from 4 to 6 p.m. at the usual charge of 25 cents.

Jasper National Park, Great Alberta Reserve, Is Outstanding Game Sanctuary

Jasper National Park in Alberta, Canada, is today one of the greatest wild life sanctuaries in the world. Here, in an area of 4,300 square miles, many species of wild life live free from human molestation. At a time when white men have been in the region, a little over a century ago, big game was plentiful. Bighorn sheep and Rocky Mountain goat fed on the hillsides, deer and elk ranged the valleys, and the flats a few miles south of the present Jasper townsite were frequented by buffalo. The whole country was a rich hunting ground for both white men and Indians.

When Jasper National Park was set aside in 1907, by the Government of Canada to meet the recreational requirements of the people and to serve as a refuge for the native fauna, great inroads had been made in the wild life by hunters. As a result of the establishment of sanctuary conditions the preservation of the different species of wild life indigenous to that region has been assured, and now hunters may feel confident of having an unfailing supply of game in the district adjacent to the park.

One of the chief attractions to visitors at the present time is the variety of wild life which may be seen along the motor highways and trails in the park. Bear, moose, deer, bighorn sheep and mountain goat may frequently be seen from a car, while caribou may generally be sighted in the high open passes of some of the nearby mountains.

In recent years there has been a remarkable increase in the wild life of the park. It is estimated that the number of bighorn sheep has doubled within the past few years and is now about 1,000. There are also a large number of caribou in the park. They are especially numerous at Pocaterra, Interlake, Brazeau River, Snake Indian Valley, Moose River, and the South and Southeast River. Rocky Mountain goat are numerous and are spreading to new ranges in the park. The largest herds of these animals are to be found at Snake Banks, Smoky River, Colin Range, Maligne Lake, Whistler Mountain and Circus Valley.

Elk, Moose, Deer and Caribou are seen in large numbers throughout the park. The elk, which had so nearly been exterminated a few years ago, have increased to such an extent that now they are extending their range in many directions. Reports state that they have been seen as far west as the Athabasca, British Columbia, on the Canadian National Railway, which is one hundred miles west of the park. Moose are also increasing in numbers, especially in the northern part of the park, which is heavily timbered and well suited to the needs of this animal. Deer in the park are also increasing in numbers. Caribou are spreading throughout the park and overflying from the Smoky River into British Columbia, as far north as the Canadian National Railway line. The main herds are about Byng Pass, Twin Tree Lake, Tonquin and Circus Valley. Smoky River, Brazeau Valley, Upper Snaring River, Dominion Creek and Mittle Valley.

There has been a large increase in the number of bears, especially in the immediate vicinity of Jasper. There are many bear colonies in the park and the animals are increasing rapidly in numbers. The bear constitute one of the numerous attractions at Lac Beauvert, where visitors in the evening hours catch glimpses of them in their home waters.

Women Have Pet Aversions

But Dislike Of Dog Family Varies With Individual

Every housewife has a pet aversion among her duties. This hated job varies with the individual. Such were the findings of a recent survey in the Women's Institute of Burton, England, which has just completed a survey on housekeeping. The president of the institute said that the most hated job was getting up in the morning. Other dislikes were cleaning windows, spring cleaning, chopping wood, washing up, washing one's hair, ironing, patching, cooking, cleaning tools and shoes and tidying drains. Three agreed that skinning rabbits was the worst. Two others said it was cleaning chickens. Another disliked keeping meals waiting, and an old lady declared that she "detested everything."

The value of livestock on farms in Canada is officially estimated at $775,720,000 for 1932 and farm poultry at $24,728,000.

Zoo Loses Ancient Teutonic

This Ends Career Of 150-Year-Old Reptile

London papers report the death from influenza of Soga, the giant female tortoise at the Zoo. There is no doubt that her registered age, one hundred and fifty, is correct; there had been carved upon her undershell the year of the Peace of Versailles, 1763. This three-hundredweight reptile had been ill for some weeks. It is said pneumonia developed, and has now claimed her at her prime. The animal was a native of Galapagos Islands, off the coast of Ecuador.

In spite of her death, Soga will continue to be an object of interest, since it is to be mounted for exhibition purposes in the galleries of the Natural History Museum at South Kensington.

Record Not Very Good

Ninety-seven Per cent. Of Anglo-Saxons Have Infected Teeth

Anglo-Saxons have a decidedly bad teeth record. Dr. Harry Thompson, field secretary for Canada of the Dental Hygiene Council told the Toronto Health League.

Preventative dentistry, the speaker said, is a health measure and is important in 83 years ago when the first extract of dentistry was first used. It is now a dental hygiene measure. Extraction era was followed by the "conservation era"—when the policy was to save everything in the mouth. Bridges and crowns flourished as dentistry supreme. Then came the X-ray which led to the discovery that 90 per cent. of disease is caused by infection and that 70 per cent. of the infection begins in the mouth, and goes via the blood to the rest of the body.

Dr. Thompson mentioned among the diseases most frequently attributed to infected teeth anemias, rheumatism, tuberculosis and some heart diseases. Prevention of decay was most important, the speaker said, and stressed the wisdom of inculcating health habits in the first seven years of a child's life.

A survey had shown that 97 per cent. of the Anglo-Saxons have decayed teeth, 94 per cent. of the Central Europeans, the Maori of New Zealand only 1 per cent. and the Eskimo only 3 per cent.—and decayed teeth in the children of these latter races is unknown. Scientists have been forced to the conclusion, Dr. Thompson said, that good teeth are the product of good teeth and their natural state, with all the essential minerals.

Eskimos Drink Alcohol

Civilization Ravaging Natives Of Victoria Island

"Civilization" is ravaging the Eskimos of Victoria Island. They have taken to drinking denatured alcohol according to the report of Corporal Wall of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

In paying inter-tribal calls, this poison and methydrates are among the appetites passed around. The corporal fears if the practice continues it will seriously endanger the health of the natives.

Some redeeming features are noted, however. The influence of the missionaries is strengthening, and the Eskimo pride themselves not only in their hymn-books, but in their ability to sing these hymns.

"They observe Sunday very closely and will not do a thing, spending most of the day singing hymns, even if the camp is out of meat."

Humanitarian influences are now being borne in on the natives. Corporal Wall noted the arrival of the Eskimo families was three children, of whom there were as many girls as boys. The practice of letting the girl babies die in infancy is dying out, he says.

A young pig weighing two pounds at birth, was sold for six months, if properly fed.

BRITAIN LAUNCHES THE "STARFISH"

Anti-air ship of the "Seahorse" which was ordered in March, 1933. The "Starfish" and "Seahorse" were designed by A. W. Jones, C.B.E., the Director of Naval Construction. There are four vessels of this class and they are 187 feet long, 24 feet beam, with a standard displacement of 640 tons.

Art Treasures Moved

Chineses Afraid Museums In Peiping Might Be Damaged

Twenty per cent. of the art treasures of the Palace Museum in Peiping, which were held at one time in the imperial capital of China. It is possible that museums may be opened in the Hsian cities, where the public may observe the art objects of Old China.

The museum's treasures were moved because it was thought that if the Sino-Japanese conflict were to develop, it might cause damage to the museums there. The task of moving all the treasures was too great, so that only one-fifth were transported. Even so, 2,000 packing cases and two trains of 21 cars each were used.

The Palace Museum in Peiping has so many art objects that it cannot display more than 10 per cent. at one time. It has been suggested for some years that the treasures be divided, and other Chinese cities be given the privilege of having a share for museums. Peiping has been urged to vigorously protest such suggestions. They have argued that the palace of the emperors who gathered the objects form an ideal setting for their exhibition.

But now that one-fifth of the art objects have been taken from Peiping, it is doubtful if they will be returned. They are more likely to grace museums in other Chinese cities.

Refuge For Jews

Immigration Into Palestine Is An Urgent Question

Sir Philip Chulme, secretary for colonies, states that immigration into Palestine must be governed by the economic absorptive capacity of that country, and that this principle cannot be departed from.

He had been asked in the British House of Commons whether, in view of the position of Jews in Germany, restrictions on immigration into Palestine would be relaxed for the benefit of refugees.

He pointed out, however, that administration of the immigration law with the high commissioner of Palestine and that the Palestine executive and the Jewish agency may make any representations they wish to the high commissioner.

Two Hundred-Inch Lens Being Made In California College

Machinery is being installed at Pasadena, California, to grind and polish a mirror which will enable scientists to peer billions of miles farther into space than man has seen before.

The machinery will be housed in a huge, heavily insulated room of the optical shop serving completion at the California Institute of Technology. The mirror, 200 inches in diameter, will be a part of a giant telescope to be built by the institute.

The largest now in use is the 100-inch reflector of the Carnegie Institution's observatory on Mount Wilson.

THE USUAL PROCEDURE

A doctor who was Superintendent of the Sunday School in a small village asked one of the boys this question:

"Willie, will you tell me what we must do in order to get to heaven?"

Said Willie: "We must die."

"Very true," replied the doctor, "but tell me what we must do before we die."

"We must get sick," said Willie, "and send for you."

Millions Have Defective Hearing

There are approximately 5,000,000 people in Great Britain with defective hearing in one or both ears. The statement appears in a survey of two years' research by the National Institute for the Deaf and the Department of Industrial Psychology of the London School of Hygiene, published in the British Medical Journal.

Dentists in Olden Times

Artificial Teeth Were Familiar in Time of Caesars

Dentists played an important role in the ancient civilizations of Egypt, Assyria and Rome, according to Dr. Leroy M. S. Miner, dean of the Harvard Dental School.

Excavations among the Incas remain in Peru, Dean Miner said, revealed that the teeth of the Incas were decorated with this gold disc. In Ecuador, teeth were almost entirely covered by an overlay of gold in ancient Mexico and India, they were commonly adorned with turquoise and other precious stones.

In an Egyptian document nearly 3,000 years old, archaeologists found recipes for toothache and for lightening loose teeth, and in the ruins of Nineveh was found a clay tablet, 2,500 years old, in which a court physician recorded his diagnosis of a royal toothache.

"By the time of the Caesars," declared Dean Miner, "artificial teeth were familiar." The Roman poet Martial notes with a sarcastic eye the efforts of the beauties of the day to maintain their charms and remarks that "the belle lays down her teeth at night just as she does her stolen robes."

"In another place he unkindly remarks that 'she now has removable teeth and would have removable eyes if they were for sale'."

Has Ancient Lineage

Greyhound Probably Oldest Of Dog Family In World

The greyhound can boast of a very ancient lineage, and is probably the oldest of the dog family in the world. It figures in Egyptian frescoes of the early Pharaohs, and was used for coursing by Greeks. A fine Antioch sculpture in the British Museum of two greyhounds proves that they were appreciated by the Romans.

Greyhounds were favorites with almost all English kings, from Canute to Charles the First, and King John repeatedly took greyhounds instead of money for payment of the penalties incurred. Until modern times the greyhound was an aristocratic dog which only "gentleman" freeholders were permitted to keep.

A trace of the regulation can be found in the fact that in England until 1853 a special tax of twenty-two shillings each was levied on greyhounds to place them beyond the reach of all except the favored few.

Notice Averted

Idea Of English Vicar Did Not Save His Apples

A vicar who had a nice orchard at the end of his village was rather perturbed when he learned that soldiers were coming to camp in the field close by. He put a card against one of the trees with the inscription:

"Please do not touch the apples. We want them for the Harvest Festival."

The soldiers arrived, and the next day when he went to the orchard he found that all the fruit had been stripped from the trees. The card had been reversed, and the following substituted for what he had written:

"All a lovely gathering in, ere the winter storms begin."

Not Much Of A Success

Airplane Wedding Was Found Too Noisy For Comfort

Marriage in an airplane may be a novelty, but it is not romantic, according to Mr. and Mrs. James Couse, maker, who were wed high above Sydney, N.S.W. The bride and groom took off from the aerodrome prepared to hear their wedding broadcast to the world. The plan to switch off the airplane engines during the ceremony, however, was abandoned.

The Dulwich Hill Congregational Church had to shut, the bride and groom had to shout their "I wills," and the radio announcer almost shouted himself hoarse. The couple had to grasp the rack above their heads to avoid being thrown about in the swirling plane during the ceremony. When the party reached the ground, Rev. Miles said he had heard enough airplane wedding, the motion picture operator reported that the Registrar General had stopped the filming of the ceremony in one or both cars. The statement appears in a survey of two years' research by the National Institute for the Deaf and the Department of Industrial Psychology of the London School of Hygiene, published in the British Medical Journal.

Frames and Greenhouse Benches

Automatic Heat Control Has Many Advan- tages For Amateur and Professional Gardeners

• Gives hot frames the flexible temperature, control now exclusively held by hot houses.

• Soil Heater supplies heat only when necessary. Manure is uncontrolled.

• With ordinary care and properly banked,
framed Soil Heated hot frames can be used in mid-winter, although their greater use is in early spring and fall work.

• Even when heat is not required for forcing growth, the Soil Heater Thermometer can be set as a guardian against unexpected frost.

• Four square yards of Soil Heated hot frame in the middle of winter maintains 60 degrees minimum temperature for two months on approximately 216 kilowatt hours.

• The flexible temperature control of the Soil Heater permits controlled plant growth, hardening off when desired, and advantage
being taken of favorable market conditions.

• Existing hot frames as benches may be used without extensive rebuilding and the same set-up can be used year after year.

Our Local Managers will be glad to give you further particulars regarding economical cost and proven results of Soil Heating by Electricity.
